We welcome you on this Earth Day Celebration, 4-22-2008. Speaking on the topic of compassion and cooperation, is the I AM Presence of the Teacher Maitreya.

Each of you has the Buddha Matrix inside of you, which contains the seeds of compassion and the soil of cooperation. Often, the bodhistsattvas, the living servers of the One Great Buddha, water the seed and soil with their tears. They look on and see the suffering in the world, and through their service, aim to help lessen this suffering by their compassion. The Buddha Matrix is complete and expands when the seeds of compassion, and the soil of cooperation are combined with the purifying waters of rain/tears, the illuminative warmth of the sun and the restorative breeze of the air.

You have all elements at your disposal right now, to heal your earth, to heal your countries, to heal your governments, to heal your relationships, to heal your families and to heal your hearts. It is the Buddha Matrix or Christ Consciousness inside each cell in your body. It is the energy inside the seed, that emerges as Love, the primary energy behind all things, the root energy that heals All. You see, sun, air and water alone, do not create healing. Healing requires cooperation of all elements, all peoples, all nations, All One. When these elements of sun, air and water, are added to soil and seed, the great blossoming spirit of One-ness emerges. You are all on One Earth. You are all inside the holograph of One Solar System. You are all inside One Universe. You are all part of One Heart, the Heart of the Creator that knows all things must return to the Source, which is Love.

When you acknowledge the POWER of the seeds of compassion inside each one of you, the potential of the Return begins to grow. When you create the space for that seed to take root, (which is compassion), the potential shifts into emergence. When the water is poured down upon that emergence, a breakthrough occurs. The breakthrough is the courageous and glorious peeking through the soil of the tender shoots of spring growth. When this growth is tended and given room to expand, the wind and sun nourish it to fullness and completion, now at this time of harvest occurring concurrently in the Southern Hemisphere. All cycles are inter-connected. All returns to the Brilliant Light and Dark Whole.

In this Spring of 2008 (N Hemisphere)/Fall 2008 (S Hemisphere), you celebrate Earth Day with greater and greater awareness of the inter-connectivity of all things. The purifying waters of the bodhisattvas will rain down upon you, clearing the way for the nourishment and growth of a New Now. After the harvest, the waters rain down again to clear the way for the time of reflection and rest, making way in the sacred spiral, for the New Now.

What is this New Now? That which the Master Kuthumi, my student of many eons, has been telling you: Only Love. As the Master Kuthumi's co-teacher, Sananda has also told you, There will always be those suffering and choosing the path of poverty consciousness of the heart and mind. There will always be those who break the covenants of humanity which are, in simplest form, to Love and to do no harm. In the face of this, what do you do to assist those who are choosing the lesser path of inhumanity? For our students, we have received an urgent call from South Africa on this early morning of Earth Day 2008:

At 2:19 am, on 4-22-2008, we received the Call for Assistance. Everything, as Master Kuthumi tells you, has meaning. Even the timing of the message from South Africa, is significant for it shows the blossoming consciousness of the interconnectivity of all things: 2:19 am is the time of the High Priestess (2), Sun (19). 2:19 is the joining of the Daughters of Light, with the Sons of Humanity. This creates the 2+19, equaling 21 of Universal Consciousness (21= World). You are all One in this new world that IS emerging in greater clarity and compassion.

Yes, at 2:19, we received the call from one being of a compassionate Heart for all in the Beloved South African Country:

I would appreciate you asking Ascended Master Kuthumi for a message for my country South Africa which is undergoing much trouble and turmoil. When will there be peace and prosperity for all? There is much corruption in government at all levels and the highest crime rate in the world with people dying daily thru hijackings and brazen robberies etc .Your help will be highly appreciated. love and light.

These are the Seeds of Compassion. The Seeds of Compassion, the Master Kuthumi tells us, are the beginnings steps of Healing Mastery:

Seeds of Compassion

Word numerology:

Total #	71	=	8
Vowels	38	=	11
Consonants	33	=	33

In the Aura-Soma system, #71 contains the basic energy of the seeds and the soil of Compassion:

#71 Jewel in the Lotus

The Jewel in the Lotus IS the seed of Compassion, as you can see: the clarity from within that All returns to the Source, which is Love. Mastery on the outer path is seen by 33, the Master Teachers number. You are all your own greatest teachers. You no longer need someone on the exterior to pass on to you “initiations, new names, new avocations, new life paths, new visions...”. All you require is to go within and listen to the still small voice of your own I AM. On this day, go within and ask:

“What is mine to do? How may I be of assistance to people anywhere on this planet, on Earth Day, who are suffering? How may I Serve?”

Go within, our Beloveds Students, and the answer is there, within your own Buddha Matrix, the seeds of Christ Consciousness in each one of your cells. This loving question, asked in your soul’s desire to cooperate with All to return to Love, creates the 11 gateway opening to the Solution for Humanity. The 11 in Aura-Soma, shows us the return path to compassion and cooperation:

#11 Chain of Flowers

The Chain of Flowers is the interconnectivity blossoming forth from your hearts to create compassion that will heal the world. You are not alone in this action. You are joined by many.

The Lord Melchizedek has enjoined you to Become a Channel of Living Love, this is the 123 start code for the New Now. He suggested on 3/31/2008, that you open your heart to the combining energies of Light and Love, #23 of Aura-Soma:

#23 Light and Love

In this way, you become the change you wish to see in the world, the action suggested by the Mahatma Gandhi.

How do we become this change our students, in the face of violence and inhumanity in your countries? How do you become this change, when your governments are not centered on compassion for All but power for the few? How do you become the change when the cost of things is rising and you feel more and more powerless? How do you become the change when your people are dying from violence inflicted upon one another out of desperation and despair? Again, you go within, and ask, on this day, what may I do to be of service? For the answer is different for each one of you, in your specific place and circumstance on earth in this moment. But the activating energy behind it is always the same: compassion and cooperation rooted in Love.

What may I do to be of service? Perhaps the answer is to pray, to smile at someone who is suffering, to offer your hand in assistance, to really look at each person you meet today – to say with your eyes, “I see you and you matter to me.” To say with your heart and the power of your words: “I love you, what can I do to help?” Is this going to change the actions of car-hijacker? Of a robber, of a murderer? Perhaps not in the moment, but perhaps that gesture, given by you today, in the only moment you have to create a New Now, will shift the path of someone who otherwise may remain in isolation and loneliness. Perhaps that one gesture and act will create an opening in the heart of someone who has, in this moment, no hope. To be seen, to be acknowledged, to be loved in this moment, is the seeds and soil of compassion and cooperation that are shifting your world into One.

Our Students, the Bodhisattvas have heard your cry and are sending the healing waters of purification into your world. These waters will cleanse the feeling of separation and apathy. You are connected, your actions matter in each and every minute gesture, look, word, thought and deed. The winds of change are upon you, the sun will enlighten you as the New Now emerges in the Spring 2008/Fall 2008, to show you that you are the Key, you are the Way, you are the Truth and you are the Change you all feel and know in your Buddha Matrix, is coming into Creation and Reality.

We close in this prayer, offered today from the Heart of Maitreya, the Soul of Kuthumi, the Light of Sananda and the Love of Nada:

To the 47 million people of South Africa, know this:
